22nd Annual MSSWA Summer Institute Motivating Our Youth! Evidence-Based Interventions & Strategies For Professionals

Featured Pre-Conference Session: Monday, June 10th, 8:15am - 10:15am

Pre-Conference A: “Wake Up: Stories From the Frontlines of Suicide Prevention” Film & Discussion to Follow: Dan Porter, MSW, LICSW Clinical Content -

Wake Up interweaves the stories of four very different communities affected by suicide — college students, veterans, the LGBT community, and gun owners. Rather than laboring on tragedy and despair, Wake Up focuses on the leaders on the frontlines of prevention, leaving viewers feeling hopeful, informed, and encouraged. It also powerfully illustrates how positive change can be achieved when compassion is practiced over prejudice — an important and timely lesson.

The film features interviews from a number of politicians and leading experts (including Congressman Joe Kennedy and Dr. Thomas Joiner), and is the first and only film to follow the cutting-edge preventative measures being taken by the Harvard School of Public Health. This session meets the MN Board of Social Work's requirement of 2 clinical social work hours.

Social Media, Youth and Mental Health: How to Handle This Wasps Nest

Social media has rapidly become a dominant part of the average teenagers life. For good or bad is here to stay however there are certainly risks, pitfalls and profound dangers with these platforms. In 2023 the surgeon general provided a thorough review of steps parents, schools, government officials and social media companies need to take to promote digital health and well-being for youth. This lecture will translate this specifically for the school-age population and explore relevant steps to improve healthy use and patterns on this medium. This session meets the MN Board of Social Work's requirement of 1.5 accredited social work content hours.

Learning Objectives

- ⇒ Participants will understand why digital should be a part of every visits screen
- ⇒ Participants will learn indications for care based on the 2023 Surgeon General's recommendations
- ⇒ Participants will learn how to help youth build upon their own awareness to care better for themselves

Joshua Stein, MD, a 2022-24 mpls magazine rising star physician, is the Medical director of youth services for PrairieCare as well as a practicing as a general and child adolescent psychiatrist in inpatient, PHP and clinic levels of care. He is part of the award-winning Psychiatric Assistance Line, providing psychiatric education and support to primary care physicians throughout the state to expand access to psychiatric resources. He is a dynamic speaker, with topics including ADHD, psychotropic interventions, suicide awareness & prevention. In addition, he is the former president of the Minnesota Society for Child Adolescent Psychiatry and a local and national advocate for children's mental health needs.

Monday, June 10th, 1:30pm - 3:30pm

Suicidal Ideations, Presentations and Outcomes

Utilizing a variety of real world patient presentations this lecture and discussion will work to enrich the skills of attendees in the prediction and evaluation of suicidal thoughts in their clients. Concrete resources for the home, school and clinic will be provided for when real world intervention is needed. The emergence of nonsuicidal self injury as well as treatments and chronologic patterns over time will be reviewed. The attendee will leave the session with increased confidence in managing patients in crisis. This session meets the MN Board of Social Work's requirement of 1.5 accredited clinical content hours.

Learning Objectives

- ⇒ Participants will learn enrichment of skills in the assessment, prediction and evaluation of suicidal thought
- ⇒ Participants will walk through various patient presentations
- ⇒ Participants will explore the emergence of non-suicidal self-injury including common cues and chronologic patterns over time
- ⇒ Participants will be able to answer questions regarding evaluation techniques
- ⇒ Participants will be provided concrete resources for the home, school and clinic for when intervention is needed

Motivational Interviewing: An Introduction

Motivational Interviewing (MI), is a client centered and “directional” counseling style that helps clients unearth and resolve ambivalence about making a change. Originally designed for working with alcohol problems, there is now a wide body of empirical literature supporting the use of MI with a variety of clients who are experiencing ambivalence about a particular area of their life that needs to be changed. The approach borrows from several theories and models of client change, including Rogers’ client centered therapy, Bandura’s self-efficacy theory, and Bem’s self-perception theory. MI therapists create a non-judgmental atmosphere in which they invite the client to make the arguments for change. Both client-centered and directional techniques are used to accomplish the essential goals of MI. Recent advances in MI research have influenced MI therapists to help clients move toward what they want for their lives (as opposed to away from what they don’t want). This session meets the MN Board of Social Work’s requirement of 6 accredited clinical content hours

Learning Objectives:

- ⇒ Participants will be able to discern appropriate opportunities for using Motivational Interviewing
- ⇒ Participants will gain an ability to utilize OARS skills to capture and create the “spirit” of Motivational Interviewing
- ⇒ Participants will be able to apply basic MI skills. Open ended questions, Affirmations, Reflections, Summaries
- ⇒ Participants will be able to elicit Change Talk and think strategically about Planning

David Wells PhD, LP, is a licensed psychologist, senior clinician and clinical supervisor at Hazelden Betty Ford Foundation – Plymouth, working with adolescents and young adults ages 12-25 in residential and day treatment levels of care. Creating Structures Interventions for Students Following a Mental Health Crisis

With rapidly increasing mental health needs of students and safety concerns in school, it is essential schools are using best practices in risk assessment and mental health intervention. We will share how social workers may implement best practices and evidence based interventions following a student mental health crisis. This session will include discussion and planning time for school social workers to explore differentiated learning for specific school dynamics by setting/age group and experience as a social worker (Setting IV, Early Childhood, etc). *For those who attended our Fall Conference Session, this will take you to the next step in planning for your building/district. This session meets the MN Board of Social Work's requirement of 3 accredited clinical content hours.

Learning Objectives:

- ⇒ Participants will learn about best practices in risk assessment and interdisciplinary teaming
- ⇒ Participants will learn about best practices in intervening with students after mental health crisis
- ⇒ Participants will learn about multi tiered systems of support for social, emotional, and behavioral needs

Julia Messenger, MSW, LICSW, is the Assistant Director of Student Services for Mental Health for the largest school district in Minnesota. She has been in the Anoka-Hennepin District for 12 years, first as a paraprofessional, then as a school social worker in an elementary and a middle school before moving to the district-level. In her current role, Julia oversees all mental health procedure and policy for the district, school social work practices, school-based mental health partnerships, and is a leader in district MTSS. Julia has served as an instructor in both the University of WI-Madison and St. Cloud State MSW programs.

Megan Lagasse, MSW, LICSW, is one of the lead School Social Workers for the Anoka-Hennepin School District and currently holds the position of School Social Worker for Secondary Intervention supporting 15 secondary sites with implementation of MTSS and SEB intervention as well as crisis response. She has been in the Anoka-Hennepin School District since 2012 as a school social worker in middle and high schools as well as a few years supporting Early Childhood Special Education. Megan also provides clinical and nonclinical supervision to school social workers.

Location

Sugar Lake; where you can see the fish and the fish can see you. Let the games begin. It's true, Sugar lake has a clarity rating of 26 feet and the locals know better than to fish it during the day. Sugar Lake is a special lake (just 1 of 4 in Minnesota) that truly look like the Caribbean. The lake is spring fed, has a sandy bottom and is nearly devoid of weeds. The lake is clearly our claim to fame but it certainly isn't the only asset here at Sugar Lake Lodge. Other great reasons to visit include our professionally designed, 18-hole, on-site golf course, Sugarbrooke, and a tremendous variety of activities both in and out of the water. Round out a true Northern Minnesota resort experience with fine dining created by our full-time culinary-trained chef and, if that's not enough, enjoy the warm summer breeze by the campfire. BRING THE FAMILY AND MAKE A VACATION OUT OF IT!

Accommodations

Sugar Lake Lodge offers everything from the Lakeside Lodge Studios and Suites, Golf Course Studio Villas & 2 Bedroom Villas, and Lakeside Cabins.

Relax at Otis's Grill & Bar

Overlooking Sugar Lake and the 18th hole of Sugarbrooke Golf Course, Otis's Grill & Bar offers a casual pub environment serving hand-crafted burgers, chipotle chicken sandwich, pulled pork sliders, walleye, osso bucco, prime rib and other hearty offerings Indoor seating and outdoor deck dining is available, serving up great views of Sugar Lake, great conversation, and a menu to please all palates.
